

Prayer To Bind Up Jealousy in Others

Lord Jesus, my wonderful King,

Lord I thank you that my life is blessed in so many ways and I live in abundance and good health. I praise you that I have not had the struggles many others have had because You have seen fit to bless me. I am grateful, Lord.

Lord you see the bitterness of others who are stricken with jealousy against me, and I ask You would bless this warfare prayer I pray right now.

The following warfare prayer needs to be spoken out loud, boldly:

And now, in the mighty and matchless Name of Jesus Christ my Savior, my King – the Name above every Name, I bind up the spirits of envy and jealousy that have been attacking me through (name the names of all the people). I curse those spirits and send them to the deepest pit in Hell RIGHT NOW in Jesus mighty Name! I command you spirits of envy and jealousy to remain in hell in that pit and await the judgment of the Most High God. Go NOW in Jesus Name!!

Lord I pray you would bless (name the same people again) so they do not feel jealous and envious any more of others. I pray, Lord, that you would heal them of fear and insecurities and any hatred and spite they feel against not only me but others who have been blessed by you. Help them see Lord that you are just as willing to bless them if they will walk in right paths. I ask now Lord that you would fill my spirit with peace, in Jesus Name. Amen
